Hazard Communications:

How to handle Hazardous Materials / Substances & How to Read MSDS's

Building a Safer Industry One Member at a Time!

On the top 5 OSHA listed violations year after year, Hazard Communication is a program you don't want to be caught without. Ensure you are up to date with your MSDS understanding, that you are training as frequently as required, and that you allow access to this 'right to know' law.

After completing this course, attendees will understand the purpose of a safety communication system to prevent occupational injuries and illnesses while working with chemicals and other hazardous substances, and be able to apply communication techniques using a labeling system, material safety data sheets, contractor communication and training. Plus attendees will participate in a discussion that will illustrate the impact of documenting usage through inventory and how it can have a positive impact on usage, costs and injury prevention.

Why Should You Attend CCBE's Safety Training Courses?

Boretti, Inc provides FREE phone and email support for safety related questions for attendees of their training courses to give you peace of mind and after training support you need to succeed.

Presented by: Eric Andersen—Boretti, Inc.

Eric has a diverse background in the field of environmental, health and safety. Eric has been responsible for the development, implementation, and management of safety programs, policies, and procedures to ensure the company complies with all federal, state and local safety laws. This required Eric to become familiar with all aspects company's concepts, practices, and procedures to achieve their safety goals. Eric is a certified IVES Master trainer, allowing him to provide safety certification training for most pieces of equipment, and an Authorized OSHA Instructor for Construction.
